

I'm against any changes to weaken the Indiana Telephone Privacy law. This law does not put telemarketers out of business, it tells them who does not want their intrusive calls. Telemarketers can still make their calls; just don't let them call me or any one else that chooses not to be bothered.

Don Kasper